NEOVAC® DA2

(Canine Distemper – Adenovirus Type 2 Vaccine)

- Core Disease Protection -- Contains the essential viruses for core protection of the most lethal and prevalent diseases of dogs
- Maximum Protection -- Contains a High Antigen Mass (more vaccine units per dose) which results in:
 - Short period from vaccination to protection
 - Higher level of protection (many times greater than the level needed for basic protection)
 - Long duration of immunity
- Early Age Protection -- Stimulates antibody production in the presence of existing maternal antibodies
- First Dose Protection -- Starts antibody production with the first dose. Other DA2 vaccines require two to three doses to stimulate an initial antibody response.
- Simple Vaccine Combination
 - Eliminates the need to use multi-way "adult vaccines" in the young puppy
 - More efficient in stimulating antibody production than complex combination vaccines
- Safety
 - Found to be safe for use in young puppies
 - No post-vaccination shedding of canine distemper virus; therefore, no chance of vaccine induced disease
 - Less likely to produce a "vaccine reaction" than complex combination vaccines
- Convenient Packaging – Packaged in a 10 dose vial or a carton of twenty-five single doses of vaccine

*Core Canine Diseases are: Parvovirus, Distemper, Adenovirus, Rabies, ref: AVMA
